ducing expenditure and what steps have been taken to monitor their compliance?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF FINANCE (SHRI SHANTARAM POTDUKHE): (a) As a measure of controlling inflation is necesary to reduce the fiscal and monetised deficits. The 1992-93 Budget seeks to achieve this by non-plan expenditure restraint and higher revenue collections. This is also a part of the fiscal strategy of the 8th Plan.

(b) It is not feasible to make a comparison between the monthly expenditure of Central Government Departments in a given year with the corresponding period in a previous year, as monthly figures booked in the accounts are unaudited and subject to reconciliation and adjustments due to delayed receipt of accounts both from the Banks and the Accounts Offices, due to a variety of reasons. It is only the annual accounts which are complete, reconciled and audited that can be compared.

(c) Government have issued a number of economy instructions to control expenditure. Besides curbs on expenses on travel, fuel, telephones, furnishings, seminars, publications, etc.; a review of various schemes has also been undertaken so that low priority schemes are phased out. Administered prices are also adjusted whether necessary to ensure that budgeted receipts like repayments of loan and interest are realised and that burden of subsidies on Budget is not increased. Besides the well established system for expenditure control in Government of India, steps are being taken to strengthen within-year expenditure monitoring procedures. A system of monthly monitoring of the transactions of the Central Government has been instituted.
